THE PRIME MINISTER CONGRATULATED ON THE OCCASION OF NATIONAL DAY OF THE VLACHS

Prime Minister Nikola Gruevski on behalf of the Government and on my own behalf, to all members of the Vlach community in Macedonia and out of our country, congratulated May 23 - National Day of Vlachs.

- The celebration of this holiday is a modest but significant symbol of the valuation and respect to the Republic of Macedonia has for the citizens of Vlach nationality. Your people were present in this region for centuries and participated in all major events today marking the Macedonian history. This historical connection between our nations, sharing the same fate, and joint work and commitment to solve common problems created unbreakable bond that exist today. Against this Vlach community is an integral part of our society. Your culture and customs are recognizable and well known, and their contribution to the diversity of cultures is a source of pride for Macedonia, reads the note from the Prime Minister.

Wishing them a happy holiday, the Prime Minister urged them to continue the work, reads, your illustrious ancestors and continue to be active stakeholders in the development and construction of our common country.

- Authorities in the Republic of Macedonia has always had a strong sense of unity and oneness with other people, a principle which is highly valued in our society rested on inclusiveness, freedom and equality of all citizens regardless of their ethnic or religious affiliation. These worldviews can only be a guarantee for a bright future for Macedonia in which every individual has an equal opportunity to realize their rights and dreams, to build a life you desire for yourself and your family, and thus to contribute to the further development of our homeland, according to a note from the Prime Minister's National Day of Vlachs.
