“We, the People” 2015 Calendar

In 2014, Survival International, the global movement for tribal peoples’ rights, held its first-ever photographic competition to mark the charity’s 45th anniversary. Open to amateurs and professionals alike, the competition aimed to celebrate photography as a powerful medium for raising awareness about tribal peoples. The winning entries from the competition were featured in Survival’s stunning 2015 “We, The People” calendar.
