Last week, Peter Pece Gorgievski, the Chairman & C.E.O of the Global Dialogue Foundation (GDF), participated in the prestigious Brahma Kumaris "Call of the Time" dialogue event held in Bali, Indonesia. This gathering brought together thought leaders and change-makers from around the world to engage in deep, reflective conversations about global peace and sustainable development.

The "Call of the Time" event is renowned for its commitment to fostering spiritual and ethical development that aims to address the pressing issues of our time. Mr. Gorgievski's participation underscores his dedication to promoting Unity in Diversity through dialogue, which is at the core of the Global Dialogue Foundation's mission.

During the event, Mr. Gorgievski engaged with various leaders and participants, sharing insights and collaborative strategies to enhance global cooperation. His contributions emphasised innovative approaches to cultural understanding and peace-building. "It is essential that we come together in dialogue to not only address challenges but also to forge sustainable pathways for action that respect our diverse cultural landscapes," said Mr. Gorgievski.

The Global Dialogue Foundation sees this engagement as a vital part of its ongoing efforts to bridge cultural divides and build a more inclusive global community. "Participating in the 'Call of the Time' dialogue allows us to connect with like-minded organisations and individuals who are also striving for peace and global solidarity," Mr. Gorgievski added.

This event in Bali marks yet another milestone in the Foundation's commitment to its mission, following a series of successful initiatives and collaborations across the globe.
