Global Donors Forum - Celebrating Philanthropy In Emerging Economies, Forging Strategic Partnerships

GDF's Peter (Pece) Gorgievski, Global Donors Forum - Washington DC, 14-16 April 2014

19 April 2014

Organised by the World Congress of Muslim Philanthropists, the Global Donors Forum brought together distinguished philanthropists, public and private sector leaders, social investors, financial services industry executives and civil society, to promote effective giving and to forge strategic partnerships for addressing pressing global and regional challenges.

Global Dialogue Foundation's CEO & Director-General Peter (Pece) Gorgievski, presented "Unity in Diversity - World Civil Society", during the "Trendsetters" plenary session.

“The Global Donors Forum was an exceptional experience”, said Mr. Gorgievski. “It brought East and West together in a rich program with distinguished speakers and participants learning from one another to better understand the intricacies of philanthropy - not only to create new partnerships, but to unlock funds for improving lives across the world. Being among the humility of Muslim givers who’d rather not see themselves as philanthropists or entrepreneurs, but as responsible people aligning their actions with the greater good, was enlightening.”
