

Audio slideshow: Hubble's first 20 years

The world's most famous space telescope has been peering into some of the deepest recesses of the universe for two decades - and is now celebrating its 20th birthday.

Take a look at some of the sights it has seen in that time with Professor Alec Boksenberg from the Institute of Astronomy in Cambridge - who was on the European team that helped build Hubble.

WATCH VIDEO

Images courtesy Nasa. Music courtesy KPM Music.

Slideshow production by Paul Kerley. Publication date 23 April 2010.

Links

Hubble

Nasa images

Institute of Astronomy Cambridge

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites

More audio slideshows

First class scientists

Mammal mail

Sea drifters

The art of camouflage

The long way home...